

FROM THE DIRECTOR:

In August you received the Library's 2014 Annual Report. What I hope you could see from the highlights, numbers, comparisons, photos and messages is how much the members of this community rely on the many different, ongoing programs and services the Library provides. If you missed the Annual Report, you'll find it on our website at www.sjlib.org under About/Newsletters.

We know that the support we provide the community does not go one way. The Library could not do all it does for you without all that you do for the Library. We are strong partners in providing programs, materials, and services that benefit this community, and we rely on your strengths to help us do that. Thank you to the many people who already support the Library in some fantastic ways.

If you're asking yourself, "What can I do to support the Library?," here are some ideas to try:

JOIN the Friends of the Library. Their 2016 membership drive kicks off during National Friends of the Library Week from October 18-24. There will be a fun grade-school activity on Tuesday, October 20 after school, and on Friday, October 23 there will be a fun Friendly event in the evening. Join or renew your membership between October 18 and December 12, 2015 and be entered to win a special prize. Your membership will last until December 31, 2016, and you'll join the list of supporters in the Library's annual report next year! Membership dues support Library programs.

VOLUNTEER to help out with a Friends fundraising activity: sort books, transport books, set up, or be a cashier for the summer fair or winter book sale, donate an item for a holiday basket raffle, take a shift at the Treasure Cove store inside the Library, bake for a Friends fundraising event, volunteer to serve on the Friends board, or ask about many other opportunities.

SPONSOR an Author: sign up to sponsor your favorite author. When they write a new book, you donate the price of one Library copy and get to be the first to read it!

SPONSOR a Magazine: offer to donate the subscription fee for your favorite magazine. You'll know you can always find it at the Library.

JOIN our outstanding volunteer force. What are your strengths? Could you be an English-language tutor? A Tech-Xpert who helps answer patrons' technology questions? A shelf tender who keeps a small section of our collection in order? A circulation volunteer who checks in returned materials and puts them back on the shelves? A book mender? A program leader or presenter? A program helper for a kids or adult program? We need all of the above!

DONATE to the Friends of the San Juan Island Library or directly to the Library to help pay for programs and supplies, equipment, or materials for the collection.

LEAVE A LEGACY: Remember the Library in your will. Consider making an endowment to the Library.

Later this year, we will be holding an Author Sponsor and a Magazine Sponsor drive. In November, watch for an opportunity to choose a magazine to sponsor. And in December, watch for a display in the Library that invites you to select an author to sponsor. Your sponsorships support your community and allow the Library's budget to stretch further to offer more resources for everyone.

We're proud to be partners with this strong, active community that supports education and culture, and is dedicated to making our community stronger. Won't you join us?

Library Director, Laurie Orton

LIBRARY PROGRAMS ENTERTAIN & EDUCATE!

The San Juan Island Library strives to offer a variety of special and regular Adult Programs for the enjoyment of our patrons. For example, this autumn we are offering both new and returning events. The very popular series Know Your Islanders Talks has returned after a summer hiatus. This monthly lecture series by island adventurers is co-sponsored by the San Juan Island Trails Committee and will continue through the fall and early winter. Bringing a Halloween flavor to the Library during the last week of October are two special events. In the returning category is Russell Barsh, Director of The Kwiáht Center for the Historical Ecology of the Salish

Our annual autumn event will focus on slithery reptiles & amphibians. The 2013 program showcased bats!

Sea, who will preside over a celebration, lecture & slideshow of reptiles and amphibians. This is the third year in a row for a fun and fascinating autumn celebration co-hosted by Shona Aitken from Wolf Hollow. In previous years, there has been a special showcase of bats, a focus on flying squirrels, incredible decorations and even a costume party!

Something completely new this fall will be a presentation on the history of witchcraft by Dr. Robert Anderson, a San Juan Island resident. His program will blend witchcraft with Robert Burns's "Tam O'Shanter," a narrative poem based on an old Scottish legend. Programs for the rest of 2015 will also include the new and the familiar. Our semi-regular origami workshops are scheduled to return in November, and popular local artist Cinda Sue Dow comes back to us with a fun new project to share that month as well.

For dates, times, and all the details, check our website www.sjlib.org, follow the San Juan Island Library on Facebook and Twitter, or sign up for email alerts about all of our Library events & programs. Give us a call at 378-2798 or stop by the front desk to register for programs and sign up for emails.

LOOKING AHEAD: FACILITY NEEDS

Assessing Our Library Facilities Needs

When the Library's Board of Trustees asks Library patrons what can be done to improve Library facilities, the two most common answers are "more quiet space" and "parking." In 2011, the Library surveyed the community in preparing its current Long Range Plan (for 2012-2017), and many respondents mentioned these and other facilities issues.

At the same time, the Library District is facing increasing costs from building maintenance, given the age and construction of the building. Currently, the Library is facing major projects like roof replacement, improving site drainage, and ongoing efforts to keep the basement clear of water and mold.

As a result, the Library District has begun a facilities assessment project whose purpose is to:

- Understand the community's needs for Library space
- Understand the mechanical and maintenance issues associated with our current building and site
- Outline the options available to the community for Library facilities

Facilities Assessment Process

The Library District will be surveying the community again to gather information, to generate ideas, and to get your opinion about the options available to enhance Library facilities in the coming years.

Our process will include many opportunities for the community to participate:

- A written survey, mailed to community members who live in the Library District
- Public meetings and brainstorming sessions
- A committee of patrons, community members, and interested parties to work on facilities options with the Library's Board of Trustees

Minutes from Facilities Assessment Meetings

Although specific issues are often discussed at the regular monthly Board of Trustees meetings (3 pm on the second Tuesday of each month in the Library meeting room), the Board also conducts dedicated work sessions. All Board meetings are open to the public and are advertised in the newspaper and on the San Juan County website.

The notes and minutes from Board work sessions are kept along with the regular Board of Trustees meeting minutes and can be found online. Additionally, links about work sessions and public forum meetings specifically about facilities assessment and planning will be posted to the Library's website www.sjlib.org.

YOUTH SERVICES

CELEBRATING 10 YEARS OF AFTER SCHOOL READ ALOUD

The wonderful thing about stories is that many of them are timeless. They are told, retold and told again, allowing new audiences to discover their characters, settings, and narratives. These retellings through the years help to connect generations.

One such tale is that of Peter Pan by J.M. Barrie. Introduced in the early 1900s, Peter Pan has delighted people for more than 100 years. The book also is the featured selection for the 10th anniversary of our After School Read Aloud program with Kathy Babbitt.

Kathy started the program with only four children participating. Those four children are now high school students. Along with her mother and first volunteer, Dorothy, she created dioramas to accompany the story and baked homemade cookies for treats.

In fact, Kathy estimates that she has baked more than 17,000 cookies over the past decade. With additional funding from the Friends of the San Juan Island Library over the years, Kathy has added to the selection of refreshments juice, fresh fruit, cheese, crackers, and snacks for those with special dietary needs.

Word of the After School Read Aloud program quickly spread and filled to capacity annually with more than 35 children in attendance. This year has been no exception. Registration for the program filled within 15 minutes.

Thanks to continued interest in reading stories aloud, a whole new generation of island children will hear classic tales, making After School Read Aloud one of the Library's most treasured programs, worth repeating to make it a community tradition.

We are pleased to report that more than 340 children and teens participated. A total of 68,280 minutes of reading time was recorded for the months of June and July.

This popular annual program is made possible by generous support from the Friends of the San Juan Island Library.
