

FROM THE DIRECTOR

I wrote in the last Library newsletter that libraries are still relevant in this digital age. And then a few days later, the underwater CenturyLink cable providing telephone and internet service to most islanders was damaged offshore from Lopez Island. As news got out that the Library still had internet service, the parking lot quickly filled, and soon every chair inside the library was occupied.

Library users were using their laptops and Bluetooth technology to Skype for business communication, banking and other essential economic activity. Others, who simply could not work when businesses closed due to lack of internet connectivity, visited the Library to connect with family on Facebook, watch movies on YouTube, or borrow books.

By the second day of the internet service disruption, Library staff set up extra tables, chairs and power strips, and again tables quickly filled with islanders using their laptops and tablets for business and entertainment. More than twice as many people visited the library as during a usual day. And it was silent. Everyone was so intent on focusing on their screen that the Library was eerily quiet. Many people, however, greeted old friends while browsing available books and movies.

Although we were worried we wouldn't have enough computers for all the visitors, we were mostly able to meet the demand, thanks to our reservation system and tweaking the way we provide internet access to non-Library computers. The San Juan Island Chamber of Commerce gave the Library a 2013 True Grit award for efforts to keep islanders connected.

We aim to help you with your technology needs. The Library has resources about specific devices and applications. We provide free WiFi connectivity, and we provide workshops and one-on-one training to help use Library technologies like online databases or eBooks.

The Library launched two new programs recently, the Microsoft IT Academy and the Library Now app for cell phones and portable devices. We are continually assess how we can best meet your technology needs. Look for an online survey coming soon. Is the library relevant? You bet it is!

Library Director, Laurie Orton

BOOK DONATIONS TO FRIENDS OF THE LIBRARY

The Friends gratefully accept book and media donations at Treasure Cove, their sales kiosk just inside the Library to the right of the front door. Treasure Cove hours are 11:30 am to 3:30 pm, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. Please limit donations to 2 grocery-sized bags or small boxes, as space is very limited. If you have multiple boxes, the Friends will be happy to make arrangements to meet your at their storage unit in downtown Friday Harbor. Please contact Birgit Kriete at 378-3972 or Barbara Sharp at 370-5256 for an appointment.

The Friends do have a few guidelines for donations: please no VHS or cassette tapes; reference books, especially encyclopedias; textbooks in any format; books in foreign languages; outdated travel books or similar informational books (3 to 10 years old, depending on type); books in poor condition (musty, damaged covers/bindings, underlining, etc.). It costs time and money to dispose of these items.

Thank you for your consideration and your donations. Because Friends of the Library is a 501(c) (3) non-profit organization, a charitable contribution receipt for your donation can be provided upon request.

HELPING WITH YOUR TECHNOLOGY LEARNING NEEDS

The Library is offering technology training to help you learn the skills you need to be a 21st century citizen. Technology is changing so fast today, it is a struggle to keep up.

To help you keep abreast, the Library has offered three workshops in using eBooks on your digital devices (see photo above), be they iPads, Kindles or something else. We're offering a series of workshops called Get Started Using Computers that covers the basics like using the mouse, copy and paste, finding your files and sending email with attachments.

Another way to keep learning is to study online. Independent learning allows you to move at your own pace and choose to focus on learning what is important to you. Thanks to a partnership developed by the Washington State Library, Microsoft technology training is now available through many libraries in the state, including the San Juan Island Library. You can study to become a systems administrator, learn Word or Excel, or just brush up on the latest versions of Office applications, all at your own pace, for no charge, using any computer with internet access. Ask at the information desk to get started.

Another technology training website that many will find useful is offered by the Goodwill Community Foundation at www.gcflearnfree.org/topics. There you will find interactive tutorials for all kinds of technology skills from basic to more advanced computer skills, digital photography, Skype, and even how to use an iPhone or social media.

We are open to suggestions for workshops you'd like to see, and we are also looking for volunteers to help present those workshops. Contact the Library outreach coordinator, Beth Helstien, if you'd like to volunteer to help or there is something you want to learn.

We'll have more workshops soon, including a Gadget Menagerie program in March. To see the schedule of what programs will be available, check the library web site at www.sjilib.org or ask at the information desk. You can also "like" us on Facebook and follow us on Twitter for the latest updates.

ADULT PROGRAMS TO ENTERTAIN, EDUCATE, INSPIRE!

Our adult programs run the gamut from enjoyable entertainment (like the Holiday Concert pictured at left with Sasha von Dassow, Pam Stewart, and Sonja Zarek) to writing workshops with State Poet Laureate Kathleen Flenniken. Upcoming programs include writing workshops with local author Susan Wingate, another book craft with Lopez Islander Brenna Jael and more from the Conscientious Projector Documentary Film Series and the Tragedy of the Commons Film Series, just to name a few.

To make sure you get the most up-to-date announcements of upcoming events, sign up for our email events announcement list. You can also check our website for programs and events: www.silib.org. And don't forget to "like" our Facebook page and follow us on Twitter for up-to-the-minute announcements about all things Library!

WE HAVE AN APP FOR THAT – LIBRARY NOW.

Download an eBook? Find information fast? We have an app for that!

The Library recently launched Library Now, a mobile app to put the library at your fingertips. From any mobile phone or tablet connected to the internet you can instantly tap into library resources, anytime, anywhere. You can search the Library catalog, check your account, ask a question, find events, and more.

To access the Library's mobile app, point your device to <http://wa.boopsie.com>, or search Library Now in your mobile device's app store and download the app today. It's free!

"Our mobile app puts library information just one click away with much faster access than going through a browser," said Laurie Orton, Library director.

Searching the catalog with the mobile app is especially easy. Just type the first few letters of two or three words and search results will begin to appear. Once you find the title you're looking for, you can place it on hold right from your phone.

The app offers additional features, such as BookLook™ that lets you scan an ISBN barcode anywhere you are to see if the Library owns the title. Just scan the ISBN, see if the Library owns it and—if we do—place a hold on it right from your phone. How cool is that?

VOLUNTEER POSITIONS @ THE LIBRARY!

More than 90 volunteers help our Library operate smoothly. Will you be one, too?

- Return books to the shelves
- Straighten shelves
- Tutor English
- Teach (or help teach) technology skills
- Check in materials
- Afternoon grandparent

Weekly and flexible shifts. Orientation and training provided.

BOOK SALES AT THE LIBRARY!

Instead of one big annual used book sale each summer, the Friends of the Library are busy planning a few smaller, more focused events to be held at the Library. If you came to the successful Holiday Book sale last December, you'll know what to find: amazing prices on books of all kinds and special items from their sales kiosk, the Treasure Cove, such as hand-crafted beaded jewelry. The next book sale is being planned for a Saturday in May. All proceeds from our sales go to support the San Juan Island Library.

GIFT BASKET RAFFLES!

The Friends of the SJI Library love creating special gift baskets available by raffle. Their Thanksgiving Dinner raffle and Valentine's Day gift basket raffle were very popular and more are being planned. Watch for their table at Market Place and at the Library and be sure to buy tickets to support the Library & get a chance to win something special! All proceeds will fund Library programs and equipment.
