

May Events at the San Juan Island Library

Know Your Islanders: Sandy Strehlou: Marjorie Walker

Monday, May 6, 7 pm

Marjorie Walker was born to a wealthy New York family, attended the prestigious Art Students League in New York, and traveled the world before finding her way to San Juan Island in 1949 to become the island's first professionally-trained artist. Sandy Strehlou will cover her fascinating life before and after she discovered the island.

Janet Thomas: Memoir Workshop

Saturday, May 11, 1 - 4 pm

In this age of sound-byte disposable reality, our stories matter more than ever. When we write, we remember.

When we remember, we understand. When we understand, we inspire. Writing a memoir links us to the collective state of human "be-ing" we all share with one another. Limited Space Available: Please Register at the Library.

Open Mic
